Predictive performance of the environment-only model